Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church

An Expression of Appreciation

WE appreciate the mercy and goodness of our Heavenly Father, whose favor has so signally attended our labors in the erection of our new edifice and by whose providential guidance the project, involving many difficulties and hazards, has been completed without loss of life, or limb, or injury to any workman.

We appreciate the efforts of our contractors, sub-contractors and their workmen, whose united efforts have given us a house of worship of which all may justly be proud.

We appreciate the untiring service of the Building Committee, service willingly given over a long period of time and for the love of Him whose we are.

We appreciate the contributions, both large and small, from members and friends, near and far. The personal sacrifices in connection with some of these gifts are known to God alone.

Thine is the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory Forever and Ever

HISTORY OF Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church Cuba City, Wisconsin

THE need for a church of the Lutheran faith in Cuba City was apparent for many years. It was frequently suggested that a congregation be started, but for various reasons it was delayed until it appeared that the hopes of those desiring a Lutheran church would never be realized.

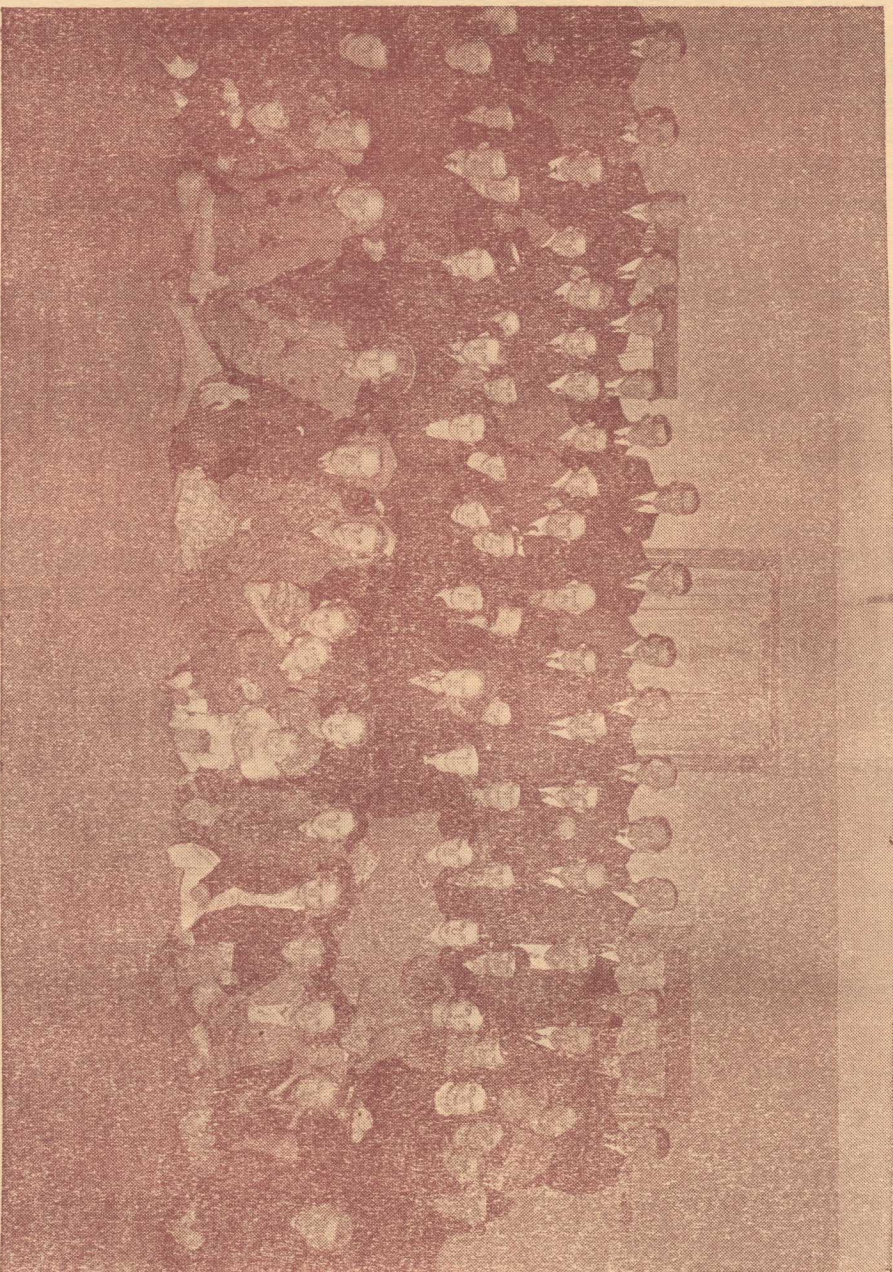

A small Lutheran congregation at Louisburg, Wisconsin, had been served by pastors and students from Dubuque. Reverend Salzmänn, who had been in charge of this congregation for the past few years, suggested that its members come to Cuba City and form the nucleus of a congregation here. This suggestion was well received and every member of the Louisburg parish later became a charter member of the new Lutheran Church in Cuba City. The fullness of time seemed to have come, and now through the efforts of the Reverend H. W. Krull and the Reverend J. J. Lippoldt, local interest was aroused. The first service was announced for Sunday, November 27, 1938. This service was held in the Masonic Hall with twenty-five persons in attendance. Arrangements were made to hold future services in the K of C Hall with the Reverend J. J. Lippoldt in charge. Each Lord's Day the attendance at these services increased, and it was not long until the average attendance at each service was fifty.

A meeting was called for the evening of January 20, 1939. At this meeting it was resolved to organize and incorporate as the Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church of Cuba City, Wisconsin. A constitution in keeping with Lutheran principles and practices was adopted. The Reverend J. J. Lippoldt was extended an invitation to serve the newly created congregation in conjunction with his congregations at Bagley, Burton, and Cassville. Members of the Church Council were also elected.

Miss Sally Ebert volunteered her services as pianist. Merton Blindert and Burnell Egan were appointed as ushers.

The ladies of the congregation organized a Lutheran Guild on April 13, 1939. At the present time it has a membership of eighteen.

Services continued to be held every Sunday, and it soon became evident that the members desired to build a House of Worship for the glory of the Lord God and the salvation of immortal souls. This task was by no means an easy one. In view of the small membership and the impossibility of obtaining assistance from the American Lutheran Church, the outlook was not very promising. There were no funds in the mission treasury of the Wisconsin District with which to place this congregation on the mission roster. Also, because this was not a mission congregation, it was not possible to borrow money from the Building Fund of the American Lutheran Church. However, trusting in the Lord God, venturing forward in faith, and refusing to be defeated, one obstacle after another was overcome until everything was in complete readiness for the building operations to commence.

Attendants at Divine Service, Sunday, Oct. 29, 1939

At a meeting of the congregation on February 26, 1939, it was decided to appoint a Building Committee whose duty it would be to study ways and means of erecting a House of Worship. This Committee was comprised of the following: Norman Ebert, Chairman; William Wimmer, Secretary; Willard McClain; Clifford McReynolds; William Pickel, Sr.; James Egan and Rev. J. J. Lippoldt, ex-officio. An architect, C. I. Krajewskie, Dubuque, Iowa, was employed. Mr. Krajewskie submitted a sketch together with blue prints and specifications. These were approved by the committee, but when bids were received the cost was double that of what the congregation could afford. At a subsequent meeting it was decided to change the structure from brick to frame, and the Jones Brothers, Cuba City, low bidders on the first plan, were asked to figure on the revised plan. Still the cost was found to be beyond our means. By reducing the length of the building six feet, it was possible to remain within our budget, and about August first the contract for building was awarded to Ed and Morgan Jones. Heating, plumbing, lighting, and furnishings were excluded in the contract. An agreement was also reached by which members could work for the contractor, and the amount representing such labor was to be deducted from the contract price.

In the meantime a building site had been secured opposite the City Park. A lot fifty feet by one hundred eighteen feet was purchased from the trustees of the Free Methodist Church of Cuba City.

The Ground-breaking Service was held on Sunday, August 13, 1939, at 2:30 o'clock P. M. The pastor loci delivered the sermon and was assisted in the ground-breaking ceremony by the Reverend T. J. F. Pagels of Galena, Illinois.

In less than two weeks after the ground-breaking ceremony, the basement had been excavated, forms erected, and the walls completed. Everything was in readiness for the corner-stone laying which was held Sunday, August 27, 1939. The corner-stone was presented by the Roy Vincent Monument Works of Galena, Illinois. The sermon in connection with the corner-stone laying was delivered by the Reverend T. J. F. Pagels, and the act of laying the corner-stone was performed by the local pastor.

Work was then begun on the super-structure, and under the efficient and capable direction of the Jones Brothers the building progressed rapidly and was completed in less than three months. In the meantime the Building Committee was busy taking care of other details such as windows, church furniture, and the like. Finally it became possible to foresee the completion of the church in its entirety, and the dedication was set for Sunday, November 19.

This history would not be complete without mentioning the extraordinary sacrifices made by the members of the congregation, the unstinting service rendered by the members of the Building Committee, and the splendid cooperation in a financial way given by the professional and business men of Cuba City. May God bless every one who assisted in any way in the building of the church.

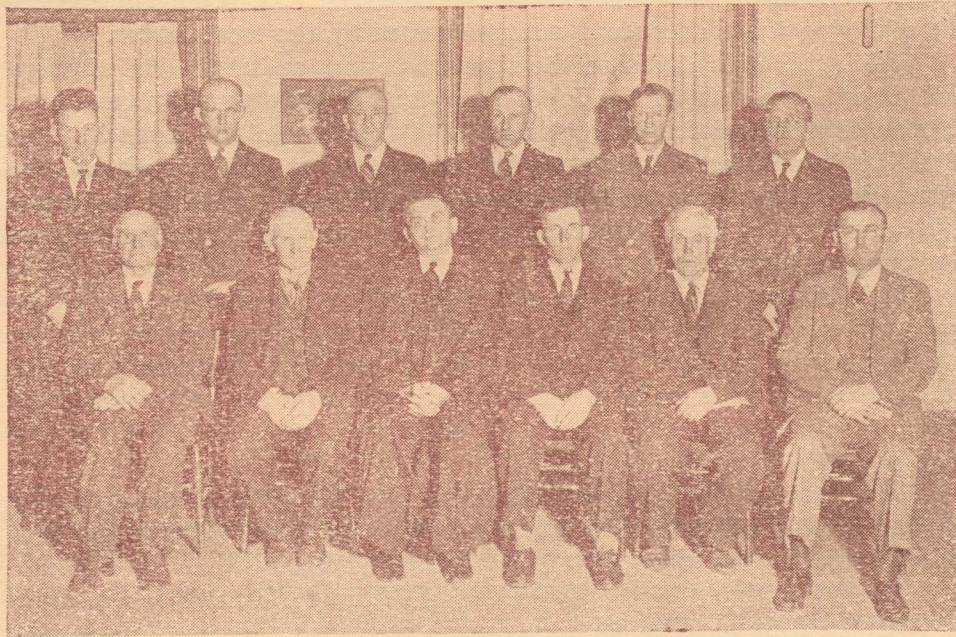

As we are permitted by the Grace of God to dedicate our completed sanctuary in His Name and to His glory, may we also rededicate our lives to Him as a worthy expression of our love for Him.

In the future, as in the past, we march forward in faith by the grace of God! To Him be all honor and glory!

Church Council

THE council of our congregation is composed of two elders, two deacons, five trustees, a treasurer, a financial secretary, a secretary. It is the responsibility of these officers to see that all matters of interest to the congregation are taken care of in an orderly and efficient way. It is their duty to see that the services of God's House are held at the proper times; that the pure gospel be preached according to the faith of the Church; that only such be admitted to the pulpit as are approved by the constitution; that the necessary provisions be made for the instruction of the young; that proper discipline be maintained, the erring admonished, and the property of the congregation and what relates to its management be duly cared for.

They are to arrange and execute plans for the welfare of the congregation and assist in the cultivation of peace, good will, and charity among the members. They are to set a good example as servants of Christ and officers of His Church.

Thus it may be seen that the officers of the Church Council are charged with a great trust, and in order to render good and faithful stewardship they must seek the guidance of our heavenly Father. May the Council of Faith Church always be constituted of consecrated Christian men, who are steadfast and unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord!

Sunday School

THOROUGH religious instruction for the young is one of the perplexing problems facing the churches of today. With the marked decline of family worship and the discontinuation of parochial schools, our children are not receiving the Christian education and training they should have. We deplore this condition in the churches, but we do rejoice that our congregation has been successful in organizing a Sunday School in which at least a certain measure of Christian truth and Biblical history may be imparted to the children.

Our Sunday School as yet is not a large one, but it is gratifying to know that practically all of our members who have children send them to Sunday School.

At the present time our staff of officers and teachers is composed of the following: Burnell Egan, Superintendent; Glen Egan, Treasurer; Genevieve Pickel and Agnes Porter, Teachers. They deserve much credit for assuming the responsibility of this work and thereby providing a means of Christian instruction for the young.

Thus the first step in the program of Christian education in this congregation has been taken. May God speed the time when more instruction will be available for the children and youth of our congregation. May He ever keep us mindful of the command of Jesus: "Feed My Lambs".

Daughters of Faith

THE organization meeting of the ladies of the congregation was held on April 13, 1939, at the home of Mrs. William Wimmer. At this meeting it was decided to organize under the name "Daughters of Faith". Membership is open to all who are interested in the objectives of the society.

The officers of the organization are as follows: Mrs. Charles Livingston, President; Mrs. Lillian Wackershauser, Vice President; Mrs. Genevieve Pickel, Secretary; and Mrs. Anna McClain, Treasurer.

Meetings have been held each month in the various homes. In the short time of its existence the ground work has been laid for an active participation in the work of the church in the future. Without a doubt, as is the case in most congregations, the ladies will be busy in giving financial assistance to many worthy causes. The altar and pulpit coverings as well as the carpeting in the church have been presented by the Daughters of Faith. Truly, they have made a splendid beginning, and we are confident that they will carry on nobly in the future.

It is a mistake, however, to think that an organization of this nature is simply to be a money-making group. We know that the Daughters of Faith have higher purposes. Among their objectives they have resolved to devote part of their meetings to the study of Christian literature and will also make the subject of missions a matter of thoughtful study.

Luther League

THE Luther League is the youngest organization of the congregation. It was organized on Monday evening, October 30. At this meeting the constitution was adopted and the following officers were elected: Merton Blindert, President; Burnell Egan, Vice President; Jane Roloff, Secretary; and Leland Roloff, Treasurer.

The purposes of this organization are to further the moral and spiritual life of its members and to train them to take an active and intelligent part in the life and work of the church. Such noble objectives should do much in keeping alive the interest of our young people in the church. If the members of the Luther League will keep these objectives in mind, the success of the church in the future will be assured.

Description of the Church

IN THE designing of a church building attention must be given to the exterior as well as the interior of the building. From without as well as from within the various features of the church must be skilfully planned so as to produce an atmosphere which will awaken man's devotion. The building of an acceptable church is not necessarily a matter of extravagance. However, it must be planned in such a way that one part is not cheapened for the sake of another part.

Our church might well be called a small chapel of the English type. Its dimensions are sixty-two feet by twenty-four feet. It has two units, the basement and the main church auditorium. The building is long and narrow in proportion, and traditional in plan, with front entrance and Narthex to the Nave, which is terminated on the east end with a spacious and deep Chancel. To the right of the Chancel is the sacristy, above which has been placed a bell cote in which hangs the bell from the old Lutheran Church at Louisburg. The balcony is on the west end above the vestibule, in which space is provided for a pipe organ and choir. Arch-braced trusses support the roof of the building and add much to the beauty of the interior. The ceiling is finished in Nu-Wood with stained panel work. The side walls are plastered in a light buff color which, by way of contrast with the woodwork, produces a soft and restful effect. From the exposed trusses are suspended three wooden lighting fixtures which blend in with other woodwork in the church.

From the entrance of the church the various perspective lines of the Nave converge toward the Chancel, centering one's interest at the altar. A carved pulpit is on the right side of the Chancel steps. Separating the altar from the rest of the Chancel is a beautiful communion rail.

Opalescent windows adorn the building and a round art glass window portraying Christ with a crown of thorns graces the east wall over the altar. There is also a round art glass window in the west side depicting a gold colored cross.

In the Nave of the church are twenty-four pews, seating approximately one-hundred fifty people.

There are two entrances to the basement—an inside entrance from the vestibule and an outside one from the side of the church beneath the sacristy. While the basement has not been completed, space is provided for a furnace room and toilets as well as a large kitchen and Sunday School auditorium. A hot air furnace with an electric blower has been installed to insure rapid and satisfactory heating results.

The roof covering is of asbestos shingles in a moderate color range. The outside walls of the church are covered with asbestos shingles.

Sally Ebert, Organist

Since the organization of the congregation, Miss Sally Ebert has served as pianist and will now continue as our organist. She has been exceedingly faithful and efficient in her work, and we assure her of our deep appreciation.

Description of the Organ

The organ is of the one manual and pedal design with attached console and ornamental display pipes.

The tonal scheme of the organ is made up of 361 speaking pipes, comprising the most wanted characters for church usage. The strings, flutes, and open stops, supported by the huge 16 ft. bass tones furnish a solid and substantial accompaniment for congregational singing, while such stops as the Bamba, Gedeckt, Rohr Flute, etc., are delightful characters for solo work.

The wind supply for the organ comes from a modern, electrically driven blower.

Note: When the congregation was organized it was decided to keep the charter membership open until the dedication of the new church. We have extended this time one week as Reception Day for new members will be held next Sunday, November 26. Forty-nine persons will be received into membership, which will give us a total number of one-hundred three confirmed members. These, together with the name of Mrs. Joe Kitto, deceased, will go down in the history of this church as the charter members of the congregation.
